

TREES IN TROUBLE

A film by Andrea Torrice

Saving America's urban forests

Music by Brian Lovely

Edited by Matt Dibble

TREES IN TROUBLE

A DOCUMENTARY VIDEO AND WEB RESOURCE

Produced by Andrea Torrice

AIRDATES: Spring, 2016 - check local public television listings

TREES IN TROUBLE: SAVING AMERICA'S URBAN FORESTS is a new documentary film that explores the rich history and importance of our community forests, as well as examines some of the threats they now face from invasive pests. Through stories of everyday people on the frontlines of change, the film demonstrates how community-wide efforts can help save and protect our community forests for future generations.

TO SEE CLIPS FROM THE FILM AND OTHER RESOURCES GO TO: www.treesintrouble.com

HOST A SCREENING! The documentary TREES IN TROUBLE: SAVING AMERICA'S URBAN FORESTS is available for community screenings and for classroom use.

PURCHASE THE FILM AT: www.bullfrogfilms.com/catalog/tnt.html

TREES IN TROUBLE was made possible through the support of: the Ohio Humanities a state affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Stephen H. Wilder Foundation, the Young Family Foundation and the TrREE Fund. It was sponsored by the Center for Independent Documentary and the Media Working Group.

CONTACT US
FOR MORE
INFORMATION

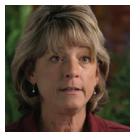

513.751.7050

www.treesintrouble.com

SOME OF THE PEOPLE IN THE FILM

DAN HERMS

JENNY GULICK

COUNCILMEMBER YOUNG

"We have to fight this, and if we work together, we can."

— SCOTT BEURLEIN, TAKING ROOT REFORESTATION CAMPAIGN